Resource person Mr.Aashutosh gave an overview about CUBE. He cited day to day examples to establish correlations between popular game like cricket and science. He further emphasized that the students can design their own experiments for the establishment of the model organisms at home or in the laboratory without the use of sophisticated equipment. He further added that the students can work in collaboration with not only their classmates but also with other cubists from other institutes through online chaat shala , which is a conversational learning mode where students talk about their work progress, challenges, goof-ups, designing experiments, about model organisms, and so on. Towards the end of the session , he appealed to the students to enrol for this programme and avail of this opportunity to build up their research profile. |                        |
